

British tourists will be 'roasted' in Spain after country passes strict air-conditioning rules

British tourists visiting Spain will be "roasted" under new energy-saving measures that bans air conditioning from being set lower than 27C in the summer, a tourism chief has warned..

Read More