

Catching Omicron 'does little to protect against reinfection from variant'

Infection with the Omicron variant of COVID does little to boost our immunity against subsequent infection, even among people who have been triple jabbed, according to new analysis...

Read More