

Gulf Arab countries threaten Netflix with legal action over content' that 'violates Islamic values'

Netflix has been asked to remove "offensive content" by Gulf Arab countries in an apparent targeting of programmes involving people who are gay and lesbian, claiming they "contradict Islamic and societal values and principles...

Read More