

Kansas votes to protect abortion rights in state constitution after supreme court ruling

Voters in Kansas have protected abortion rights in its constitution by rejecting an amendment that would have allowed state lawmakers to further restrict access to the procedure..

Read More