

Millions to see annual mortgage payments rise by more than £5,000 in next two years

More than five million households could see their annual mortgage payments rise by an average of £5,100 between now and the end of 2024, a leading think tank has warned..

Read More