

Minister given 'categorical assurance' PM did not know about 'serious specific' Pincher allegations

Education minister Will Quince says he has been given "categorical assurance" from Number 10 that Boris Johnson was "not aware of any serious specific allegations" against his disgraced former deputy chief whip, Chris Pincher, when he was appointed...

Read More