

Ministers order fracking survey two days before unveiling new energy strategy

The government has commissioned a survey into fracking two days before announcing a new energy strategy focused on using UK-produced supplies after the invasion of Ukraine...

Read More