

One killed and dozens injured as high winds cause Spanish festival stage collapse

One person has been killed and dozens injured after high winds caused parts of the main stage at a music festival in Spain to collapse, officials have said...

Read More