

Policeman missed chance to shoot Texas school gunman because he was waiting for supervisor permission

An armed policeman at the Uvalde school massacre had an opportunity to shoot the gunman but missed his chance waiting for permission from a supervisor, according to a new report..

Read More