

Red alert: UK set to roast in 'ferocious heat' as temperatures could hit above 40C

Britons have been urged to stay inside as the UK braces for "ferocious" temperatures breaching 40C, and swathes of the country are now covered in the first-ever red warning for extreme heat..

Read More