

Retail sales plunge as consumer confidence 'nears financial crisis all-time low'

Retail sales plunged by 1.4% last month – far more than expected – as consumers tightened their belts in the face of the squeeze in living costs, according to official figures...

Read More