

Three killed after passenger train collides with lorry and derails in Missouri

At least three people have been killed and around 50 people are said to have been injured after several carriages of a passenger train derailed on its way from Los Angeles to Chicago...

Read More